Philo-videocafé: danza, teatro e costruzioni non verbali

Abstract

This session will be built around viewing extracts of some outstanding works of performance art. This work moves across the categories of dance, theatre, storytelling and, perhaps, dream. They can be viewed as particularly vivid examples of embodied construing.

The format of the 'philo-videocafé' includes an introduction which connects the work with the theory of PCP; the shared experience of watching the performance extracts; followed by a group discussion in the context of our theme of 'embodying constructivism'.
